

RECEPTION FOR WESTLEY PASTOR

Rev. F. C. A. Jones Formally Welcomed by Baptist Parishioners—Funeral of Mrs. Arthur L. Perry—Baggage-master J. T. Crowley Promoted to be Parlor Car Conductor—John C. Gildea Writes from Arizona—Fusion of Republican Factions.

John C. Gildea of the West Side, who recently moved with his family to Blaine, Arizona, in the hope of improvement in health, writes under date of May 5:

"We are all getting along finely, and you would be surprised in the changed condition of the children, especially Willie. I am feeling fairly well, but the cough hasn't all left me yet, and I get short winded at little exertion, but the altitude, 5,000 feet at the lowest point, and from that to 7,100 feet, accounts for the short-windedness. I expect to get over this difficulty soon, as I had a like experience in Colorado several years ago.

"I have just returned from a week's trip on horseback through the Swiss Alps mountains, and it was fine. There were three of us and we had plenty of venison, turkey or jack rabbit, at every meal, and sometimes all three. A smaller game as side dishes. We went after near one day, but didn't see any. I slept in a little shelter tent, open at the end. It is very warm here in the day time, but blankets are needed at night.

"While at Switzerland, we camped for two days at the Herten mine, and I was very much interested in it. The owners are comparatively poor men and are handicapped by a failing West. They have a fine place and old-time miners say they will have a profitable camp there. Everybody here buys of socks out of copper stock.

"There hasn't been a cloudy day since we came here, and I am told that there is not likely to be any rain until July, and then very little. Water pipes are laid above ground on the hillsides, so I guess the winters don't amount to much. One man told me he has seen snow only twice in the fourteen years he has been here.

"The Knights of Columbus are very strong here, and I am sorry I did not join Narragansett council when I was able. The Ancient Order of Hibernians has a big division, but the members are scattered in a great many camps in Arizona and Mexico, and meet only on the call of the state secretary. There is a club of the Cling in Lowell, and I have heard from here, but I haven't seen over there yet.

"Well, I think I can report myself as much improved, no longer so weak, and steadily gaining, and hope to be able to take employment soon. Everything, including wages, is high here. Miners get $24.50 a week, clerks from $100 to $175 a month, and doctors get from $3 to $5 a visit. This shows there is lots of money in the camp."

At the state convention of Knights of Columbus in Worcester, Wednesday, John W. Sweeney of Westley was elected judge advocate. The other officers were Joseph P. Cole of Providence, state secretary; Charles McAlvey of Pawtucket, state secretary; Thomas J. Loughran of Warren, state treasurer; James J. Callahan of Newport, state warden; John F. Sweeney of Woonsocket, state auditor.

District Deputy Thomas V. Kieran of Providence was elected to the national convention to be held in Rhode Island in August, and Eugene Driscoll of Westley was selected as third alternate. There are 100 members of the Knights of Columbus in Rhode Island, and Narragansett council of Westley is the oldest and largest in the state.

The Rhode Island Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, represented by the executive committee, held a meeting Tuesday, and James N. Smith of Providence was re-elected general agent.

Thomas E. Robinson of Westley was among those appointed veterinary surgeons for the society, with power to kill feral horses in the state.

Rev. F. C. A. Jones, the new pastor of Calvary Baptist church, and his family, were welcomed in informal reception in the church parlors Tuesday evening. Rev. Joseph L. Penock, the retiring pastor, acting as chairman of the exercises. All the Protestant pastors of Westley and Rev. S. M. Cathcart of Pawtucket and Rev. W. G. Jones of Hope Valley made congratulatory remarks, which met the cordial appreciation of Rev. Mr. Jones.

Rev. Dr. Rigler of the First Baptist church read an original address prepared especially for the occasion. There was a piano solo by Miss Marian Barus, vocal solos by the Misses Marjorie Suberwell and Mollie Randall, and readings by the Misses Eva Margelin and Jessie Stanton. There was a large attendance in evidence of the cordial welcome to the pastor and his family. Refreshments were served.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A Correction.

Mr. Editor:—Please grant me space in which to correct an inaccurate statement in your paper regarding the fire in my house, 76 Church street, on Tuesday.

Not realizing the seriousness of the fire, which resulted from the boiling over of a boiler—not a kettle of tar—someone in the house attempted to smother a small fire by way of the police station, calling 1-5, and being told by the telephone girl that "they do not answer," this, although Chief of Police Murphy states, as we all know, that there is a man on duty there, day and night, to respond to calls.

When the hurry call was given—"The fire station!" and the question came: "Who do you want?" Twice the chief of the fire station, Chief Stanton, and the delay was so long and so exasperating that the receiver was hung up in despair. By that time I had the fire so much subdued that I thought the chemical would hold out until the fire was out, which it did, but that was quickly extinguished by placing a wide board over the top. The fire was not the trifling matter stated in your paper. The estimated, nearly $200 damage, through greasy soot and smoke.

Manager Knight of the telephone exchange, who is very satisfied, works for the efficiency of the service, explains the trouble, which might have cost serious injury to the property. By the fact that a new operator was on duty, who did not realize the seriousness of the call; and I am just as anxious as the Bureau to have the girls. I simply ask that this statement be printed in accordance with the facts, truthfully and without bias.

MARRIED IN LEDYARD.

Col. and Mrs. C. W. Griggs, Who Recently Celebrated Golden Wedding in Tacoma.

Ledyard friends have received a copy of the Tacoma News of April 14th, containing the following of eastern Connecticut interest:

At the family residence on North Tacoma avenue, Col. and Mrs. C. W. Griggs will be at home this evening to the family relatives and intimate personal friends residing in Tacoma to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. Although arranged in a simple manner, the anniversary celebration will interest in the city owing to Colonel Griggs' business and social prominence and the family's long residence here. Messages and telegrams of congratulation have been coming in all day and flowers and personal remembrances sent in profusion have added to the regard of scores of family friends.

Col. and Mrs. Griggs were married in Connecticut. Mrs. Griggs' maiden name was Martha A. Gallup, the daughter of prominent Connecticut people, known for their loyalty and service during the Revolutionary history of the colonies. Following their marriage, which took place at Ledyard, Conn., Col. and Mrs. Griggs came west to Tacoma, where Col. Griggs served in the Civil war in command of one of the Minnesota regiments. They removed to Tacoma in the 80s and have since made their home in this city. Col. Griggs, with ex-Senator Addison G. Foster and Henry Hewitt, established the St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber company, with which he is still associated, although he resigned his place as president of the company two years ago. His son, Capt. Everett Griggs, succeeded to the place.

Mrs. Griggs has been until recent years prominently associated with the state organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Under her leadership the first Tacoma chapter of the organization was organized, and she was instrumental in organizing the state assembly, of which she was the first state regent.

The recognition of Mrs. Griggs' services the Washington D. A. R. has made her honorary state regent for life. One of the remembrances sent to her in honor of her golden wedding day was a gift of flowers from the Mary Ball chapter bearing the good wishes and congratulations of her chapter associates.

The members of the family residing in Tacoma include Capt. Everett Griggs, Mrs. George C. Warner and Herbert C. Griggs. The other children are Mrs. Benjamin T. Tilton of New York city and Theodore and C. M. Griggs of St. Paul.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY.

Gold in the Adirondacks.

The discovery of gold mines in the Adirondacks is something to wonder at sincerely. Heretofore the hotel owners of that region have been the ones to claim the possession of what they call auriferous deposits there might be here. The location of the newly discovered "pay dirt" is said to be about 25 miles south of Lake Placid and in the direction of Elizabethtown. That town lies about 30 miles as the crow flies southeast of Placid, so the gold mines must be nearer Elizabethtown than Placid. But just think of a new gold mine in the Adirondacks!—Bridgeport Standard.

High Priced Dogs.

A news story appeared in the New York papers the other day to the effect that an English bulldog has been sold in London to Lord Long Island parties for $25,000, and that this sum is the largest that was ever paid for a bulldog since Richard Croker, Jr. paid $5,000 for Rodney Stone. The prices in each case are no doubt very much magnified, as were the stories set afloat as to the price Frank J. Gould paid for the famous St. Bernard, Starveland, the figures in that case being reported at $6,000. Men of means, no doubt, pay large sums for prize winning dogs, but the figures do not reach

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it has been incurable. For a great many years doctors prescribed a lot of remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, the disease has become incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It cures Catarrh of the bladder, kidneys, and all other cases of catarrh of the blood and mucous surfaces. Many weak, nervous women have been restored to health by Foley's Kidney Remedy, as it stimulates the kidneys so they will eliminate the waste matter from the blood. OUR CITIZEN'S DEMAND

Fully Complied With. A Norwich Resident Furnishes It.

There are few items which appear in this paper more important to Norwich people than the statement published below. In the first place, it is from a citizen of Norwich, and can be thoroughly relied upon. In the second place, it indisputably proves that article here endorsed does its work thoroughly and not temporarily. Read this carefully.

D. J. Brown, living at 6 Summer Street, Norwich, Conn., says: "The results that followed the use of Doan's Kidney Pills in my case were most satisfactory. I procured this remedy from N. D. Sevin & Son's drug store and from my experience can heartily recommend it as an excellent preparation for toning up the kidneys and relieving all symptoms due to a disordered condition of these organs."

No Room for Convicts.

The state prison is full and overcrowded and Warden Garven has declared that he can not receive any more prisoners from any of the counties of the state, consequently the county jails are being taxed to their capacity to accommodate criminals who should be sent to the state prison. There are seventeen state prisoners in the New Haven county jail, including two sentenced for life for murder, and there is no room for them at the state institution. They may be considered, perhaps, as at the head of the waiting list, but the chances of accommodation there are small. The state must do something in this matter soon.—Bridgeport Standard.
